

Lorna Hobbs

Lorna's ability to identify the key trade mark issues and present them in a clear and uncomplicated way is popular with clients. This ability helps her to serve all her clients effectively, whether they are multi-national companies or individuals with no prior experience of trade marks, and equips her to meet their different requirements.

Lorna is supported by qualified attorneys Peter Houlihan and Joanna Larkey. With this strong team around her, she brings to her clients a range of options for managing their trade mark portfolios, and has a great deal of experience in matching their needs with the most appropriate people.

Lorna's style is to develop strong relationships with her clients, and as a result she is sensitive to their commercial pressures, and able to alleviate these by actively progressing matters within agreed parameters.

Lorna's grounded and sensible approach and her appreciation of her clients' individual commercial needs allow her and her team to deliver consistently relevant advice.
